CORENA signs partnership agreement with SpecTec

CORENA have signed a strategic partnership agreement with SpecTec to jointly provide solutions supporting the Shipdex exchange protocol. SpecTec, world leading supplier of Computerised Maintenance Management Systems to the shipping industry, is a leading member and the author of Shipdex. Shipdex is an exchange protocol for the digital documentation that is based on the AIA/ASD/ATA S1000D standard. CORENA is one of the world's foremost suppliers of Commercial-Off-The-Shelf products managing the production, publishing, distribution, and use of technical documentation for complex equipment.

In addition to making its core product, Life*S1000D, Shipdex compliant, CORENA will develop additional Shipdex modules for manufacturers, ship owners and ship operators. The Shipdex modules will be marketed by SpecTec as part of the AMOS Business Suite for the shipping industry. "This is an important market break entrance for CORENA. We already have several naval organisations as our customers and will through our partnership with SpecTec obtain access to their global user base. Also it is a pleasure to observe that the S1000D standard, which Shipdex is built upon, is being adopted in more and more industries," says Toralf Johannessen, CEO and President of CORENA.

"We are pleased that we have found a partner in CORENA with demonstrated success in the S1000D Technical Publication market and with a global presence that complements our own. Our joint Shipdex solutions will complement SpecTec's AMOS Solution Suite and will significantly contribute to reduce costs, increase quality and make accurate technical data available on board the ships. Furthermore the manufacturers and owners may be able to obtain 'as operated ship status' for their life cycle support," says Giampiero Soncini, CEO of SpecTec.
